Waveland fires engineer

50-unit apt. in air

Tentative agreement by the Waveland's Mayor and Board of Aldermen to change the zoning of property on the north side of Waveland Avenue at Beach Boulevard to 20 multi-family was elicited by realtor Joseph V. Colson at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the town council. Actual action is contingent on such a recommendation by the zoning board, unopposed by a major segment of property owners in the area, and is for the purpose of permitting erection of a 50-unit apartment house set back at least 75 feet from the property line on Beach Boulevard.

The board also voted unanimously to terminate employment of Brock Kennedy as town engineer. The board wanted Roland Weston to take this position, but Weston said he would have to check the professional ethics involved before accepting.

Firing of Kennedy concluded another facet of the town's trouble in completing paving of St. Joseph Street, for which Bosworth Construction contracted last year. Acting as a sub-contractor to Bosworth, Kennedy was to install sub-surface drainage including connected catch basins on the street, and this work has never been completed.

In addition, the engineer, as part of his job as town engineer, was to stake out the grades on the street to grading and paving could be accomplished. At Tuesday's meeting failure of Kennedy to do this was again blamed as the reason for the paving not being done by now. The critic this time was D. R. Crow, another sub-contractor of the Bosworth firm who attempted to grade the street. Crow said he could not properly do that part of the job until the catch basins were properly installed (he said some were several inches too high), connected and covered.

F. C. Holloway, Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance agent, explained to the board the advantages and costs of a group policy on the town's employees. To qualify for such a policy 75 per cent of the municipality's employees must participate and by state law the town is permitted to pay 20 per cent of the premium cost on the employee but nothing on spouse or children if the contract covers them. Jaycees collect awards, Carter gets nat'l post Bay St. Louis Jaycees walked away with a host of awards and a national director for Mississippi at the annual state Jaycee convention in Vicksburg last weekend.

Charles Carter, Jr., was named national director for the state, carrying almost every club en route to his victory. Only disappointment of the weekend was the defeat of Tom Logue in the race for state presidency. That went to J. C. McDonald of Kosciusko who beat Logue and Brock Chase of Brookhaven.

As a unit the Bay club reached 1,000 points on the state scoreboard to tie for first in Mississippi. More "blue ribbon" Jaycees came from here than any other club.

The fair will begin Saturday when barbecued goat and chicken will be served, and much of Saturday's program will be taken up by political talks. Barbecued dinners will also be featured all day Sunday and a large dance will complete celebration.

Dredge job marks speed-up at MTO

First significant construction contract let at Mississippi Test Operations—dredging a barge harbor—is slated to get under way in the next few weeks. William Winterstein, administrative officer, said Wednesday.

T. L. James and Co., Inc., of Ruston, La., got the $668,340 contract for the work which calls for an access channel from East Pearl River into the southwest corner of the newly acquired government reservation and digging a harbor in a previously undisturbed area.

The channel will be about a mile long with a bottom width of 150 feet and depth of 13 feet plus one foot of overdepth allowed to take care of inaccuracies in the dredging process. The harbor will be about 2,000 feet long and 400 feet wide with the same depth as the channel. Work is to be finished early next January.

Five prime contractors responded to the Corps of Engineers' call for bids on the job. Harders Construction Co., Inc., of Panama City, Fla., was apparent low bidder at $334,924 when bids were opened yesterday by the Corps of Engineers on the dock and access road. The dock will be in the harbor to be dredged.

Solon aide buttoned by board

An emissary of Senator John Stennis got a candid appraisal Monday from the board of supervisors as to hardships it believes Uncle Sam has inflicted on the elderly and poorer property owners in the NASA test site and buffer zone in acquiring their land.

Marx Huff, who operates Stennis' Jackson office, got about a 60-minute briefing from the board on some of the inequities it knows of, was urged to get the senator to act more vigorously in support of his constituents and finally was warned that his boss might take a few lessons from the late Senators Theodore Bilbo or Huey Long and "raise a stink with the Corps of Engineers."

The aide requested they furnish specific information on alleged inequities and contended the senator is fully sympathetic to the problem. Earlier in the session the board called on the director of the State Employment Service to provide a full-time officer in Hancock County after hearing complaints these seeking jobs with Mississippi Test Operations contractors must go all the way to Gulfport to apply. Persons seeking to use the office established in Poycune have been turned down because Hancock County is not in that district, it was said. A building in Bay St. Louis is available, it was noted.

On the motion of H. G. Dean, seconded by James Neacase, the board agreed to write two letters to Senators Stennis and Eastland and Rep. William Colmer telling them of dislocation with the land prices being offered for MTO.

In another MTO matter the board approved a request from the Corps of Engineers to close two sections of the lower Gainesville Road, southwest of the old Negro Baptist church and south of the former Jay Warner home, to make way for a new road NASA will build.

reservation was started last Thursday by Tanner Construction Co., successful bidder on that job, Winterstein reported. Tanner sent in three of his own men and the rest are being hired locally. Next week when erection starts the force will number around 10.

Meanwhile Southern Railway is pushing toward a May 15 goal to run a train over its 10-mile spur line from Nicholson to the headquarters at Gainesville although cleaning, dressing and grading the area is expected to require a few more weeks. Work is centered now at the Interstate 59 overpass outside Poycune. It is understood consideration is being given by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission toward establishing a branch of its Gulfport district office in Hancock County to facilitate local job applications for MTO contractors.

Property owners group protest church prices

The difference in the amount offered by the Corps of Engineers for Spring Branch Missionary Baptist Church and for Napoleon Baptist Church was the principal complaint aired Tuesday by members of the MTO Property Owners Committee at a conference with C. L. Wooten, chief appraiser for MTO acquisition, and J. B. Graham, chief negotiator for the property.

August Holden, spokesman for the property owners, said $21,000 was offered for the Spring Branch church, which he described as reasonable, but only $11,000 for the Napoleon church. Although Wooten pointed out that the Spring Branch church was larger, had water piped from its own well and had cooking facilities, Holden insisted the Napoleon church property was equally valuable. He also said that a counter proposal for sale at $14,500 had been made by the church's trustees and he understood this had been referred to Atlanta authorities by the

4 more announce

Four more political hopefuls this week joined the field for the August Democratic primary, the tempo stepping up somewhat with the 5 p.m. June 7 deadline to file only four weeks away.

Issuing announcements are Gerald V. Price, Jr., who will try to succeed his father as sheriff; A. C. Mitchell, real estate man who is seeking return to the post of chancery clerk; Arthur F. Neacase, making his political debut in pursuit of the job as county superintendent of education; and August J. Scafidi, who is making another try for the Beat 5 seat on the board of supervisors for which he ran a strong third four years ago.

The younger Price is making his first bid for elective office. He has been chief deputy during Sheriff Price's administration and served on the force when B. D. Johnson was sheriff. He is the sixth to announce.

Mitchell previously served three terms as chancery clerk—from 1948 to 1960—when he was defeated by the incumbent, Clarence Lader. Mitchell is the first to announce in this race. Neacase, Kiln native who taught school there and at Sellers in the past, is now a science instructor in Baras, La. He is the first to formally tell his plans

How to meet building needs within the present state law and in the face of the anticipated NASA impact occupied the county board of education during two sessions within the last week. Immediate problem, that of funds for the addition to the elementary division at Hancock North Central School, was considered at a special session last Thursday and another meeting has been called this Friday to pursue the topic.

Meanwhile, at its first regular May meeting Monday afternoon, trustees wrestled with how to relocate the old Logtown School in the Pearlington area and to expand the Gulfview School plant at Lakeshore while staying within restrictions of current state statutes which do not provide for the impact from such an installation as Mississippi Test Operations.

In the case of the HNC addition of four elementary classrooms, the board found itself in difficulty meeting the district share of the job to which the State Education Finance Commission had allocated $39,294. After consultation with the contractor, William Bond of Poycune, at an executive session the previous Thursday, it was agreed the necessary economies could be Mobile office of the Corps of Engineers. On being pushed for a reappraisal by a different appraiser Wooten promised to "ask if they'll let me send one". Holden also told the government officials that he thought one of the appraisers was sometimes evaluating property too high, but another one was consistently too low, sometimes as much as a third, and "all year trouble is due to him". "Isn't fair value enough to replace it?" he queried and was answered that consistently over a long time the Corps have held that fair market value is the amount property would bring when bought by a willing buyer from a willing seller.

Hardship cases and the length of time it was taking to get offers on their property was tackled by Graham, who said these were getting priority treatment but that in the buffer zone there were more than 400 such scattered affected by revising material specifications.

Bond, successful bidder on the addition at $54,500, after consultation with Architect Dalton Shourds, suggested eliminating the acoustical ceiling, terrazzo floors, some refinements in the lavatories, the windbreak between the gym and the high school, covered walkways and other items to cut the cost to $42,500.

Trustees objected to erasing the windbreak and walk covering which Bond subsequently agreed to provide, putting the revised cost at $47,900. It was indicated this sum is within the board's means and the necessary change orders are to be approved Friday.

The board attorney, W. J. Phillips, questioned Shourds closely as to whether the material changes might considerably alter the prices of other contractors bidding on the job and attention was given as to whether the whole project might be rebid. It was concluded, however, that would result in enough more expense to offset the effort.

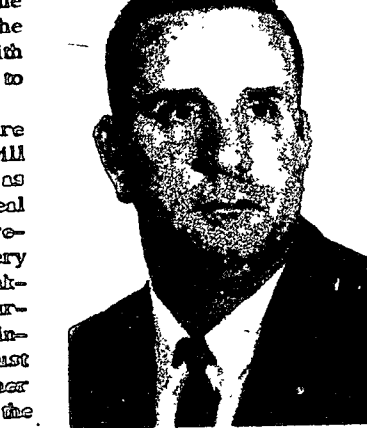

C. R. Holladay, Poycune attorney, accompanied Bond to last Thursday's session and contended there could be no legal objection to the methods proposed of going ahead with the project. Bond and Holladay finally submitted a written statement agreeing that if the change orders were not approved by the state agency the contract would be considered null and void.

One cloud before the board in this instance is the remuneration it has received from the federal government for the old school installations at Gainesville which have been taken over for the lunar landing test site. Restrictions as to its use have not been interpreted by legal sources.

Similar restrictions surround Uncle Sam's purchase of the Logtown School in the MTO buffer area and the board's attorney was instructed to seek a ruling from the state attorney-general as to whether that money could go for replacement of the institution rather than into the school bond sinking fund as provided in routine cases of this nature. Phillips noted that NASA acquisition was without precedent and not in line with statutes for disposal of school property.

The board found itself handicapped in a like manner on land it considered informally purchasing in the Lakeshore area to

The jokers at HNC presented their play Friday night, Annie Get Your Gun. The director, L. C. Carrington, and assistant director Paula Fay Hartel, should be congratulated on a fine job. Elaine Carrington designed and executed the sets. She did a lovely job, I might add.

All in all the play went over beautifully. Lynn Reynolds in the title role was a gem. Her costumes were lovely as was her Tennessee hillbilly dialect. Chas. Neccaise in the lead role, Frank Butler fit the part perfectly.

The play is the first one to be done by any class previous to this with more than one scene. This play had five different ones which took some time to change. During intermission Melvin Mitchell, Sammy Corvax, and Junior McKay entertained with music.

Deep sympathy to the family of Romanus Lecher who passed away last week from a heart attack. Those coming from out of town were Romanus Lecher, Jr., California, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lecher, Virginia, and Freddy Lecher.

Johnny Favre was out last week with a bag of some sorts. He is back at school this week studying again.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hudson from Michigan are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudson of Neccaise Crossing.

Sam Cooper, a lawyer from Bay St. Louis spoke to HNC students last Wednesday on Law Day.

Freedom Day at HNC was the highlight of the week. Tuesday was the day and as usual the pair victims came dressed just opposite from the way they normally do. (The boys come as girls and the girls as boys.)

Ecumenical High School chorus of Pensacola, Fla., was a welcome guest of HNC last Friday. The group consisted of 70 members and sang a medley of seven songs, including Moon River and I Believe. Never has the school had such a treat, say many of the teachers and students. The group raised money for the trip themselves.

Get well wishes this week to Helen Moran who is in the hospital recovering from a minor operation. Also in the hospital is Hazel Lee.

The WYO's at Eastern Baptist Church are giving a supper in honor of their members this Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Erich Muehl and children, Laura, Sarah and Local artist secures 17th century panel

An authentic 17th century Dutch wood panel painting in oil by Adriaen Van Ostade was secured by Robert J. Geiger at 700 Beach Blvd., Waveland, at the weekly discussed U. S. Post-office auction in New Orleans April 24.

Van Ostade (1610-1684) was a well known Dutch genre painter and engraver, noted for his paintings of peasant life and for portraits and still life. He entered the studio of Frans Hals and came under the influence of Rembrandt and Adriaen Brouwer. Jan Steen was one of his most famous students.

Paintings by Van Ostade are included in the collections of all the fine museums of the world including the Metropolitan and Brooklyn Museums and the Art Institute of Chicago where Geiger studied. The panel is badly split but there is very little loss of paint. Geiger does not anticipate any insurmountable problem in its restoration, having spent many years in conservation of art and artifacts. Among works of famous artists he has worked with are those of Rembrandt, Holbein and Whistler.

Geiger is a collector of highly diversified tastes and is constantly searching for paintings, engravings, miniatures, oriental

ARTHUR F. NECAISE
CANDIDATE FOR Superintendent of Education

TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF HANCOCK COUNTY:

Please accept this as my official announcement of my candidacy for the office of Superintendent of Education in Hancock County.

My experience and qualifications are as follows: Twenty years of teaching experience in the Public Schools of Mississippi, Georgia, and Louisiana. I received my high school education at Kilm High School, and my B.S., M. A. degrees from Mississippi State University.

I am 49 years of age, married to Velma Ladner, and have been a resident and tax payer in this county all my life. My parents were the late John A. Necaise, and Victoria Ladner Necaise. My wife's parents were the late Ulysses Ladner, and Mrs. Annie Ladner. We now live in the Standard Community.

I have always been interested in the welfare of all citizens in the County, and if elected as your Superintendent of Education, you can be assured I will be dedicated to the needs of our schools. I will be fair and impartial to all school employees. I will make use of the tax payer's dollars to the best advantage in promoting a higher standard of education in our secondary school system throughout the county. I will cooperate with all City, Parochial, and Public School Officials to the fullest.

It will be impossible for me to discuss my platform at this time, but I will do my best to discuss it with as many voters as possible before the Democratic Primary to be held in August. It is my sincere belief that the issues such as these in which I am living that more emphasis should be placed on education, and that of our young people. Our school is a national problem and Hancock County is no exception. Participation will be given by the county as it affects education, and support and

Christ School gets accreditation check

A five-member inspection team from the Southern Assn. of Schools and colleges has been at Christ Episcopal Day School this week evaluating the school program to determine if it qualifies for accreditation by that agency.

Only one elementary school in Mississippi—at Port Gibson—has been accredited by the Southern Assn. since it began accepting elementary schools five years ago. In addition to Christ Episcopal, applications are now being checked from Ocean Springs and Forrest County.

The local school made its initial application for accreditation by this organization during the current session and since then has been engaged in a self-evolution.

United Churchwomen nominators named

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. W. W. James, Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Jr., and Mrs. Carl Anderson was named to present a slate of officers at the fall meeting when the United Council of Church Women met last Friday at Christ Episcopal Church.

The program was presented by Mrs. P. E. Porter, Jr., and Mrs. W. L. McFarland was in charge of arrangements.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

GERALD V. PRICE, JR.

announces his candidacy for SHERIFF & TAX COLLECTOR

TO THE CITIZENS AND TAXPAYERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

After serious consideration, I have decided to seek the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, and therefore wish to publicly announce my candidacy for the nomination for this office, subject to the will of the voters in the Democrat Primaries, to be held in August of this year.

I am 39 years old, a lifelong resident of Hancock County, being the son of Gerald V. Price and the former Lillian L. Sylvester. I am married to the former Amelia Chadwick, and we together with our children, Charlotte, age 15 and "Rusty" (Gerald III) age 11, reside at 434 Jefferson Davis, in the town of Waveland.

My education was obtained in Hancock County Schools, with graduation from Bay St. Louis High School in 1943. Immediately after graduation, I enlisted in the U. S. Navy, where I served for 36 months, 30 of them being in the Pacific. In addition to being a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion, I am a member of the Mississippi Tennessee Police Association, The National Sheriff's Association and a member of other local organizations.

The growth of the coastal area in the last few years has caused an increase of criminal activity all along the Coast. The future growth will cause an even greater strain upon the law enforcement capacities of all cities and counties of the coast. For this reason the greatest need for the next four years will be aggressive, determined and impartial law enforcement.

Being convinced that this is so and that a man's knowledge and experience are very important factors in the decision you are required to make in selecting your Sheriff, I humbly submit the following for your consideration:

During the past 3 1/2 years I have been chief deputy under my father, Gerald V. Price, the present Sheriff. I had two years prior deputy experience under former Sheriff B. D. Johnson. In addition to this, I spent two years in the Navy Shore Patrol in the field of military police work. This would approximately eight years in law enforcement. During the past 3 1/2 years, I assisted my father in law enforcement. This enabled the people of Hancock County to have Law Enforcement and Police Protection around the clock for the first time in the history of Hancock County; a procedure which I shall retain if elected.

During this same period, I was instrumental in organizing the large auxiliary force for search and rescue work. Skin divers, boats and planes are available if needed by the present Sheriff in search and rescue work, as well as Civil Defense.

I pledge to the people of Hancock County that, if elected, I will continue these improvements in law enforcement which have been instituted by my father and will expand them as the need arises.

In the near future I shall make further statements about the details of my plans if elected to this High Office of Sheriff and Tax Collector, in a complete platform. Greyhounds top BHS for diamond crown

The Ocean Springs edged Bay High 5-2 Friday afternoon in Ocean Springs to dedicate Coach Lance Lupton's Tigers as Gulf Coast Conference baseball champions. The Greyhounds won top honors with a spotless 6-0 conference record. It was the final game of the season for both teams.

Ocean Springs rallied for four runs in the top of the third inning and then rode the pitching of David Beaugez and the relief hurling of Donald Mohler to victory. The Greyhounds scored an insurance run in the fourth.

Bay High tightened the gap in the fifth when after a walk to rightfielder Frank Miller, pitcher Danny Kramky doubled and centerfielder Leslie Bledzie singled. Mohler took over for Beaugez, however, at that time and Bay High didn't score again. The only other safe blow for the locals was a single by first baseman Richard Schaefer.

Beaugez was the winning hurler and Kramky the loser. The Tiger freshman allowed all five runs before being relieved in the fourth by junior Gary Neza.

Little Pony league opening dates fixed

June 3 and 4 have been officially set as the starting dates for Little and Pony Leagues this summer. Persons interested in playing Little League ball during the season are asked to register Saturday at 9 a.m. at City Hall Park. Pony League registration will be the following week.

Practice sessions twice daily will begin Monday, May 27, under the direction of Coach Buddy Pitino, head baseball master at St. Stanislaus. Little League play will then start the next week and will continue every Monday, Wednesday and Friday through the summer.

Pony League games will be on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, and both leagues will begin play at 4:30.

Mrs. Flossie Tuckey, chairman of the Parks and Playgrounds Commission, said she more space for the Pony League is needed. She also wants managers for all ages. Anyone interested is urged to contact her at her home.

Football Jackson

Schedule of four major college games has been announced for the Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson during the season. Ticket offers by mail are being accepted as of May 1.

The past two years several outstanding teams have appeared in Jackson and the coming season should hold down the tradition of folks from the Bay saw one or more games in Jackson. Year and have been asked about information regarding the attractions.

Mississippi State University will control much of the spotlight in the Jackson stadium in '63, Coach Paul Davis' Bulldogs will play three contests there. The University of Southern Mississippi will host Memphis State in another game, while the University of Mississippi is absent from the slate.

Following the Sept. 14 season-opener between Southern and Memphis State, Mississippi State will take on Tulane Oct. 12, Auburn Nov. 9, and Louisiana State Nov. 16. All games will be at 8 p.m., except the afternoon clash between Auburn and State. Season tickets are being sold by mail at $20 each plus a 50¢ payment for handling. Orders for individual games are $5 each plus 50¢ handling.

Looking back on spring sports

Baseball and track season for local high schools came to a close last week when Bay High and St. Stanislaus each completed their campaigns. The Tigers finished high in the standings in the Gulf Coast Conference baseball competition. Although the Rockchaw didn't fare too well, Stanislaus did manage to beat the Bay High track squad in District 8 meets.

Ocean Springs won the GCC diamond crown - Coach Lance Campbell's Bay High team dropped only three games and two were to the talent-loaded Greyhounds. Among the stars for the Tigers during the season were Richard Schaefer, Leroy Luke, Leslie Blaize, and pitchers Danny Krankey, Gary Noto, and Don Saucier.

The Stanislaus nine didn't post a good won-lost record but in fairness to Coach Buddy Pitalo's team and although we know we've said it before, the Rocks played the best teams in South Mississippi over and over and just didn't have the quality of material to compete. Lefty Curtis Mothorne, only a sophomore, turned in some good mound performances, and Dusty and Doc Rhodes, Nodie Ladner, Dan Dedonnes, and Ned Heath were among the leading Stanislaus pitchers.

Bay High's thinclads looked real good on occasion, but a couple of untimely injuries handicapped Coach Wilmer Seymour's charges. Senior Bill Pahlman set the GCC shutout record. Senior Don Everett, last year's District champ in the broad jump, couldn't leap this year because of an injury but did well in speed races. Eighth grader Charles Necaise showed good work in various events, especially the high jump, and senior Dave Smith comes in for special credit for outstanding performances in the hurdles. Although Smith didn't set any records, he did a terrific job considering the fact Bay High has little or no equipment with which to practice.

Stanislaus was the too "small" school in the district in track and field circles, and missed by only a fraction winning the over-all Mississippi Catholic Conference championship. Senior speedster Paul Pasullo was the star of the team and won time-after-time in the 100 and 220. Mike Brady was another consistently good scorer in the broad jump and Richard Stinson also did particularly good for SSC.

Our congratulations to these coaches and athletes for their efforts and contributions to the spring sports season.

Side bars

Tony Piazza of New Iberia, son of Bay St. Louis's well-known barber, made sports headlines last week when he raced his "Hustler" to the championship of the Neches River Festival speed boat races in Beaumont, Texas. Piazza, in defeating a host of nationally famous champions, won the event sweepstakes championship and the E. C. Debusch trophies in winning several races, but produced his first smile when receiving still another prize, a kiss from festival queen Constance Courts.

Sandra Gayaut took over the high girl's game and series bowling lead in the Gays and Dolls teen-age mixed league Saturday afternoon. Sandra's series was well over 400 and her top single game was 187. Peggy Giveans previously held high game mark with 186 and also was the high series owner.

Bay sailors finish 11th in Hopkins race

Biloxi Yacht Club sailed to victory in the Arvah St. Clair Hopkins Memorial Regatta, first major Gulf Yachting Assn. event of the season last weekend at Gulfport Yacht Club, beating out 12 other GYA members for top honors. Bay-Waveland tied for 11th place in the three-race affair.

Dr. W. L. McFarland started the local club off on the right track in Saturday's first race, finishing second behind Biloxi's Baltar Holland.

Dr. T. A. Quigley represented the Bay team in the second race and wound up 12th as did Bill Baltar in the final fish race of the regatta.

Races were also staged over the weekend in the sunfish, Flying Scott, junior fish class, and star classes although no local skippers placed in those categories.

Final point scores were Biloxi 31 1/4, Pass Christian 27 1/4, Southern of New Orleans 25, Mobile 24 1/2, Pensacola 24, St. Andrews Bay 23 1/2, New Orleans 21, Buccaneer of Mobile 21, Gulfport 20, St. Petersburg 20, Bay-Waveland 15, Fairhope 15, Fort Walton 7.

Guest speaker will be C. J. (Celeste) Taylor, varsity baseball coach at the University of Southern Mississippi and a St. Stanislaus graduate of 1939.

Outstanding athletes in the various sports and band members of high achievement will receive trophies and other awards for their accomplishments.

The most coveted award, instituted this year, will be that of student-athlete.

DON'T BE CAUGHT SHORT...

Ask About Our Wiring Program

YOU MAY NOT HAVE this man's problems, but running short on home wiring can be just as aggravating. There's no worry, though, if your home has been wired for "full housepower" - plenty of circuits and outlets to handle present and future electric appliances.

To help you enjoy the full benefits of total-electric living, call the nearest company office and ask how you can qualify for an Outdoor Housepower Box and from $40 to $75 toward service entrance wiring. Then you'll never be caught with your wiring down.
